

SUMMER 2012 STOCS-ELIGIBLE PROGRAMS LISTImportant Information

The STOCS application is an application for the scholarship only. A separate program application must be completed for admission into the study abroad program by contacting the program director listed below.

“Cost” is based on in-state resident undergraduate tuition, program fees, airfare, housing, three meals per day, and study abroad insurance, unless otherwise specified. Actual costs will depend partly upon airfare, number of credits, choice of accommodation (e.g., shared apartments vs. home stays, where applicable), lifestyle, and the currency exchange rate. Non-New York State Resident students should contact program directors to verify any differences in program costs. Dates and prices are subject to change. Applicants may need to budget for the cost of visa, passport, and other incidental and personal expenses and should verify all costs with the program director.

All STOCS applicants must file a 2012-13 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) by March 15, 2012 to be eligible for STOCS. Please see <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov> or contact your home college financial aid office.

The deadline to submit STOCS applications is March 19, 2012. For more information, please visit:
