To receive certification to teach in New York State, all education students must now pass the Academic Literacy Skills Test (ALST). This test consists of selected-response items followed by focused constructed—response items. The test also comprises an extended writing assignment based on both critical analysis and graphic representations of information in reference to a specific topic. The analysis of complex literary and/or informational text is an essential component of the ALST examination.

Our Academic Literacy Skills Test Preparation course will examine test material and scoring objectives in relation to critical analysis of literary content, response writing techniques, and practice essays. Test taking strategies and time-management essentials

AS-900TU21: Tuesday 6:00-9:00pm
February 24, 2015—April 14, 2015
(No class April 7th)
$300 • 20 hours • 7 sessions
Instructor - Gino Zamparo

NOTE: For test information, please go to www.nysed.gov

To register: call 718-997-5700 or visit our website for online registration.
(There is an additional $5.00 cost for online registration)

http://www.qc.cuny.edu/pcs/Programs/ProfessionalDevelopment/Pages/ExamPrep.aspx