RE: 1982-1983 Data Book

DATE: February 10, 1984

Enclosed is the 1982-83 CUNY Data Book, with sections for Enrollment in Summer 1982 and Admissions and Enrollment in Fall 1982.

The Data Book has been expanded, with information now reported on the age and high school graduation date of first-time freshmen, trends in first-time freshman and transfer admissions, and percent distributions as well as actual headcounts of age and class level of all undergraduates.

Most of the tables have been generated from data tapes submitted to this office. The revised layouts reflect the computer generation and laser printing of these tables.

CHAPTER I. SUMMER 1982

Section:

A. Enrollment.................................................. 2 - 23

CHAPTER II. FALL 1982

Section:

A. Admissions............................................. 3 - 45
B. Enrollment.............................................. 49 - 99
C. Ethnic Census Review............................... 103 - 118

CHAPTER III. SPRING 1983

Section:

A. Admissions............................................. 3 - 45
B. Enrollment.............................................. 49 - 96
C. Degrees Granted 1982-83............................ 99 - 115

A list of individual tables precedes each section.

STUDENT DATA: FALL 1982
ADMISSIONS HIGHLIGHTS

- There are 31,473 first-time freshmen, 10,354 advanced standing transfers, and 3,229 first-time graduate admissions. Senior college admissions are down 3% from Fall 1981; community college admissions are up 5%. Graduate admissions are up 7% from Fall 1981.

- Regular program first-time freshmen are older than first-time freshmen enrolled in special programs (SEEK/CD). Community college freshmen are older than senior college freshmen. Among all first-time freshmen, more than 1/3 are 20 or older.

- Among all first-time freshmen, more than 1/3 delayed their enrollment in college one or more years after high school graduation.

- GED recipients account for 14% of all community college first-time freshmen.

- Nearly half the undergraduate transfers at the University are from colleges outside the CUNY system. This proportion has been increasing in the past several years.

STUDENT DATA: FALL 1982

ENROLLMENT HIGHLIGHTS

- There are 158,931 students enrolled as undergraduates at CUNY in degree credit courses in Fall 1982, of whom two-thirds are at the senior colleges. There are another 18,081 students in graduate courses, for a total of 177,012 students enrolled in degree credit courses at CUNY. Total enrollment has increased in each of the past two years. (Table 1-3, 19)

- There are an additional 34,530 students in adult and continuing education and other non-credit programs (including campus schools) for a grand total of 211,542 students enrolled in some type of University activity in Fall 1982. (Table 6)

- Enrollment in undergraduate courses generates 126,449 full-time equivalent students (FTE's), while enrollment in graduate courses generates 10,164 FTE's. [Undergraduate FTE's are computed on a semester basis by dividing the total credits/equated credits in undergraduate courses by 15. Graduate FTE's are computed by dividing the total credits in graduate courses by 12. Doctoral FTE's are computed using a different formula.] (Table 7)

- Fifty-eight percent of the undergraduates are women. (Table 1)
Nearly one-tenth of the undergraduates are enrolled in the SEEK or College Discovery programs. Women comprise 66% of these students. (Table 1)

Sixty-three percent of the undergraduates are enrolled full-time (i.e., enrolled for 12 or more credits/equated credits). Baccalaureate degree students are more likely to be full-time than are associate degree students (71% vs. 66%). Seven percent of the graduate students attend part-time. The proportion of undergraduates enrolled full-time has been declining since 1979. (Tables 1, 19)

Among associate degree students, 32% are in business programs, 24% are in liberal arts and sciences, and 14% are in health services/medical technologies. Among upper division baccalaureate degree students, 21% are in programs in business management, 11% are in social science programs, and 8% are in programs in the health professions. Nearly a third of the master's degree students are in education; another 16% are in business programs. (Tables 11, 12, 13)

About half the undergraduates are 23 years old or older, making CUNY's undergraduate population considerably older than traditional college undergraduates. (Table 16)

Ninety-three percent of the undergraduates are from New York City. Another 3% are from other parts of New York State. Among graduate students, 79% are from New York City; another 10% from other parts of New York State. (Table 17)

Programs Not Included Above

- Mt. Sinai School of Medicine
- Summer Program including Extension & Continuing Education
- Extension & Continuing Education

TOTAL UNIVERSITY (including programs listed above) 149,704

a Includes degree-credit contract-supported programs (see Table IX).
b For comparison with budgeted FTEs, the actual fall FTEs were doubled.
c Includes 81 FTEs generated in York's intercession program.
d Includes 377 FTEs generated in York's intercession program.
e Estimated annual FTE enrollment pending completion of four quarters of 1982-83.

*Numbers in parentheses represent a decrease.

Since Fall 1980, the University instituted a new reporting procedure which permitted its community colleges to restate, at a later date, their numbers of FTE students. The numbers in this table do not reflect these restatements.

STUDENT DATA: FALL 1982
ETHNIC CENSUS REVIEW

The data presented in this section summarize the responses to the Fall 1982 Ethnic Census. The Census is an anonymous voluntary questionnaire completed by the students during the registration period. The information is gathered to comply with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

College response rates for Fall 1982 range from less than 10% to greater than 80%. This variation is due in large part to different collection methods at the colleges. Overall, the senior college response rate is 22%, the community college response rate is 43%, with a total University response rate of 28%.

The tables included here present ethnicity and income data by college and college type, controlling for student status, sex, class level, etc. Trend data are also included.

* The 1976 data were not collected, as in other years, during the fall registration period, but were collected at the spring 1977 registration. Included in the 1976 distribution are all freshmen rather than first-time freshmen only. Since Spring entering freshmen may differ from Fall entering freshmen, it was assumed that reporting all freshmen would involve less distortion and make the 1976 data more comparable to other years.

 High school graduate figures were derived by applying the ethnic distribution of New York City public and non-public 12th graders to the actual number of New York City graduates of public and non-public high schools. Source: Information Center on Education, New York State Education Department
